Farmers Suffer Enormous Loss

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, weeds will cost the farmers of the Province more than thirty million dollars this year, in the decreased yield due to weeds, in the increased cost of harvesting and threshing their grain, in dockage and freight on weeds shipped with the grain to Fort William or Vancouver.

This year when conditions have been so favorable for the growth of grain, they have been equally favorable for the growth of weeds, and sections of Saskatchewan have many square miles of crops grown on some of the richest soil in the Province which have been so yellow with mustard that hardly a blade of wheat could be seen. Wild oats have been worse than ever this year, so that it is steadily widening the area where it is a thorn in the side of the farmer, and stink weed is flourishing like the proverbial green bay tree.

If to a thirty million dollar loss for Saskatchewan alone, the losses for Manitoba and Alberta are added, the total loss for the three Prairie Provinces will be between fifty and sixty million at least, easily constituting the heaviest charge levied on Western agriculture. Half losses have been heavier than usual this year, but they do not begin to approach the losses sustained by farmers through weeds.

For a quarter of a century or more Western farmers have been waging a battle for lower freight rates. They have won notable victories in this regard, not the least of which was the obtaining in the first instance of the Crow's Nest Pass rates on grain and their restoration after they had been abrogated during the war. But the estimated savings to the farmers of the three Prairie Provinces through the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, running as they do into millions of dollars annually, do not equal the losses sustained by the farmers of Saskatchewan alone through weeds.

A reduction in the Customs tariff on agricultural implements and machinery, or on any one of the many articles necessary to the farmer, is hailed with pleasure as a real relief to the agricultural producer. The practical wiping out of the Income Tax so far as farmers are concerned, the reduction of the postage rate from three cents to two, and other legislative enactments reducing the burden of taxation, are rightly regarded as important in assisting to make farming and all industry more profitable. But these savings are small in comparison to the millions of dollars that would be left in the pockets of Western farmers through a vigorous, persistent, successful fight all along the line against noxious weeds.

The whole country gets stirred up in an election campaign where tax reduction policies are an issue. Farmers unite and organize to place candidates in the field pledged to tariff reductions, reduced freight rates, Rural Credits, and other measures calculated to advance their interests and prosperity. But too many who wage battle for these lesser gains appear quite indifferent to the weed menace and its resultant heavy losses to themselves and the country at large. Many farmers who are enthusiastic, and organize and fight for those things which they can only obtain in co-operation with the other farmers of Canada, yet display the most astounding apathy in dealing with a problem which is all their own, and the solution of which rests solely with themselves, working in co-operation with their next door neighbors.

The Saskatchewan Weed Bulletin just issued contains valuable information and guidance for farmers in dealing with their weed problem. It is written in clearly understandable, non-technical language, and every Saskatchewan farmer who has a weed problem on his hands should send to the Department of Agriculture, Regina, for a copy of this Bulletin, while farmers in Manitoba and Alberta should likewise communicate with their Provincial Departments of Agriculture for similar literature.

The Saskatchewan Bulletin states that the greatest source of the weed trouble is found in dirty seed, and it has been proven that quite a large number of farmers who cultivate their soil carefully to destroy weed seeds already existing in the ground, are actually returning the same plant criminals to the soil through weed seeds contained in their seed grain, thus rendering all their toil and labor for naught, perpetuating the problem, and keeping up the loss.

Co-operation amongst Western farmers is accomplishing great things for them and for Canada, and co-operation is capable of achieving even greater things in the years to come. Possibly in no one way can more be accomplished than by each individual farmer enlisting in the war on weeds, and waging it aggressively in season and out on his own land, and in co-operation with his neighbors and municipal officials throughout the whole district in which he resides.

Unlike other wars, which always end in losses for both victor and vanquished, a successful war on weeds means great gains and larger profits throughout the years to come. Let's fight!

Geologist Finds Ancient Tomb

Looking For Honey Cache Uncovers Many Interesting Objects

A swarm of bees was noticed by a geologist entering a small aperture in the wall of a canyon near Anaheim, Cal. He set off a dynamite charge expecting to uncover a honey cache. Instead he blasted into a tomb containing a well preserved human skeleton and other objects of archaeological interest. In a clay jar, hermetically sealed, were thousands of vegetable seeds. On many of the largest there were hieroglyphs, presumably carved by members of an early race. The skeleton was further back in the large cavern, seated upright on a niche in the rock. A footprint in the rock measured fifteen inches in length.

Golf Courses in Canada

In proportion to population, Canada with its 164 golf courses, has more than the United States, so visitors from other countries need not worry about having to miss their game. The province of Ontario leads with 60; Quebec 70; Alberta 60; Saskatchewan 23; Manitoba 51; British Columbia 29; Nova Scotia 17; New Brunswick 11; Prince Edward Island 5. Several new courses will be completed this year.

A Gentleman of the Road

Good Motor Driver Will Extend Courtesy to Others

The main essential of a good driver is to behave as a gentleman on the road, and to extend that courtesy to other users of the road which you expect to receive from them. "During a recent trip to Natal, says an official, I found that the majority of motor drivers there gave the approaching vehicle sufficient space to pass in perfect safety. This is a lesson which I think should be well impressed upon every motor vehicle driver. The great majority of drivers on the public road today seem to take a delight in passing each other as close as possible—sometimes with only a matter of three or four inches to spare; forgetting that those three or four inches might find them perhaps for three or four months in hospital."

Scale For Weighing Signatures

Makes Calculation Within Hundredth Part Of A Grain

Among the articles shown at the exhibition of the Incorporated Society of Inspectors of Weights and Measures at the Central Hall, Westminster, England, is a pair of scales capable of weighing a person's signature. The method adopted is simple, the paper being weighed before and after the writing of the signature.

The difference involves a calculation within a hundredth part of a grain. Sometimes the weight of the writing is so infinitesimal that it has to be calculated by means of a mirror and shadowgraph.

There is no average weight for a signature, but in the main everything depends upon the quality of the paper used or the degree of softness of the pencil.

Another factor is the temper of the writer, for a man in a temper writes more heavily than a man in a state of mildness.

THE GROWING GIRL

Requires a Mother's Constant Care and Watchfulness

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time, for it is when strength is sapped by too rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, languor and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation follow, with low spirits.

At the first symptom of anaemia mothers should act at once. Neglected anaemia often leads to decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood enricher ever discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pure, red blood created by these pills will quickly banish all signs of anaemia. They will build up your girl's health and ensure her a robust girlhood. Give your daughter a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now. Make her strong like thousands of girls and women throughout Canada who have been rescued from the clutches of anaemia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

England's Oldest Living Barrister

Sir Harry Poland Has Celebrated Ninety-seventh Birthday

Sir Harry Poland, England's oldest living barrister, has celebrated his 97th birthday. He received many congratulatory messages, but was too unwell to be seen by any but a few friends.

It is 75 years since Sir Harry was admitted a member of the Inner Temple, being called a few months after the late Lord Halsbury, who died at the age of 93.

Sir Harry became famous largely for his conduct as crown prosecutor of many notorious murder cases. He became known as "the death hound of the treasury," being a great authority on the licensing laws and the incident of taxation.

Sir Harry remembers the funeral of the Duke of Wellington and the hoisting of the Nelson statue to the top of the column in Trafalgar Square.

The Spider's Harbor

A species of spider inhabiting the shores of the Pacific may be found at low tide crawling around on the rock and coral reefs, but when the tide rises, you search for them in vain. Each spider, when the tide starts to come in, takes refuge in a crevice and spins over her retreat a sheet of silk impervious to water.

The Fine Art Of Carving

Lucky Is the Man Who Has Mastered All Its Details

"Carving is said to be an art that takes a man a lifetime to master. However that may be, there are good and bad carvers, and one is never so expert but that he may learn some new trick in carving a roast or fowl. There has recently been published a valuable and most entertaining little booklet, entitled 'The Fine Art of Carving,' which deals with this subject."

In addition to giving details regarding the proper methods to be used in carving roasts, joints, fish and fowl, there are also valuable hints for the housewife on how to properly prepare a roast of meat of any kind. The booklet is well illustrated in colors showing how to select the best joints of meat, and how to carve. There is also good advice on how to reduce your meat bill, and how to roast meat without loss from shrinkage, and a great deal of other valuable information. Copies of this booklet may be obtained free of charge by any Canadian householder. Our readers would be well advised to write to the Sheet Metal Products Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to branch offices at Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton or Vancouver, and obtain this valuable booklet, 'The Fine Art of Carving,' which will be mailed absolutely free of charge.

World's Poultry Congress

Lord Willington Will Be the Chief Patron of the Gathering

The governor-general, Lord Willington, has expressed to the president of the World's Poultry Congress, Mr. Edward Brown, his very keen interest in the congress. On assuming office Lord Willington will become chief patron to the congress, and will welcome the international delegates when they assemble at Ottawa, July 27, 1927.

Canada's part in the World's Poultry Congress exhibition is an important one. It will comprise a national educational exhibit depicting our national poultry policies; a national live bird exhibit; provincial exhibits and commercial exhibits. The staging of these will be in the hands of the Canadian exhibition commissioner. New buildings now in course of construction on the grounds of the Central Canada Exhibition will be available for the congress. This will be the largest exhibition ever staged devoted entirely to one phase of livestock, the whole requiring nearly 200,000 square feet of floor space.

Wrongfully Accused

At a parade of a company of newly called men, the drill instructor's face turned scarlet with rage as he slated a new recruit for his awkwardness.

"Now, Rafferty," he roared, "you will spoil the line with those feet. Draw them back at once, man, and get them in line!"

Rafferty's dignity was hurt. "Plaise, Sergeant," he said, "they're not mine; they're Mickey Dolan's in the rear rank!"

Internally and Externally it is Good

The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is that it can be used internally for many troubles as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colds, and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Is Champion Eater

An English paper merchant has challenged the world in an eating contest. He claims he is the champion eater and plans to go to the United States to meet possible competition.

He is now in high training, eating 36 eggs for breakfast and three pounds of ham for lunch. He often eats 25 small pork pies.

Stabilization of Rural Land Values

By C. W. Peterson

No public issue has been the victim of more platitudes than that of immigration on platform and in press. In Canada there seems to be no intelligent public opinion on the question, and our economic groups are consequently hopelessly divided on the issue. Added population merely spells further unemployment to the labor group, and increased competition to the farmer. Hence, we frequently find our great rural organizations unfriendly and even officially antagonistic towards any effort to augment Canada's population.

Public Apathy

An intelligent study of the population question leaves one in no doubt, that lasting agricultural prosperity is not possible without the steady, progressive colonization and development of our extensive vacant spaces by real agricultural settlers. The realization of such a programme would, however, involve a constructive and forward-looking colonization effort of a magnitude no government could safely contemplate today. In view of the apathetic state of average Canadian public opinion on the subject, the superlative confronting Canada at this moment, therefore, may appear to be to convince her own citizens of the wisdom of regarding the population question as the corner stone of all public policies, which, indeed, it is.

Agricultural Unrest

We have for almost a decade been confronted with the demoralizing spectacle of steadily receding rural land values all through Canada. This was the outcome of a combination of circumstances, but has been chiefly due to the cessation of immigration, coupled with the modern spectacular drift to the cities. Land values today, east and west, are at very low ebb, and many farmers have thus seen their chief asset shrink to such an extent that actual equities have in some instances totally disappeared, representing the loss of the fruits of years of hard labor on the part of every member of the family.

The Agricultural Credit Structure

Land represents the principal borrowing asset of the farmer. Stable land values lie at the foundation of rural credit in practically all its forms. When land values become demoralized the whole agricultural credit structure is undermined. Credit of all sorts is curtailed and interest rates advanced. In fact, it may be laid down as an economic axiom, that a prosperous agriculture and a contented rural population are not within the possibilities with receding and unstable land values. The demoralizing effect in itself upon the farmer of the progressive shrinkage of his chief capital asset is bound to exercise a most unfortunate influence upon his state of mind and actions.

Restoring Agricultural Confidence

There is today a vast area of vacant lands on the market in the prairie section of Canada and improved farms are offered for sale in other provinces comparatively at bargain prices. The demand for such properties slackened perceptibly with the drying up of the stimulating flow of immigration some years ago. The settlement of the province of Ontario dates back as far as that of the Middle West of the United States. Yet land values in Iowa, Illinois and elsewhere are twice and three times as great as in Eastern Canada. Why? The Canadian farmer should be keenly interested in recovering a normal market for rural properties. A comparatively limited demand for land would quickly be reflected in strengthened values all round and the moral effect would be incalculable. Urban business would automatically benefit through such a restoration of agricultural confidence. Our farmers have, therefore, a vital interest in the inauguration of vigorous and comprehensive policies by the various governments and railways designed to promote the actual colonization of vacant agricultural areas.

Old Feud Settled

An 800-year-old feud between the townships of Aderno and Alcara, Sicily, over the possession of the remains of St. Nicholas Politi has been settled.

The saint's skull has been awarded to Aderno and the remainder of the skeleton to Alcara.

Aderno claimed the saint's remains because he had been one of its children. Alcara because he died within its limits. The feud has led to fatal clashes through many centuries.

Discover Plans Of German Battleship

Will Assist Greatly in Refloating Hindenburg at Scapa Flow

Searching in the submerged chart-room of the scuttled German battleship Hindenburg, at Scapa Flow, divers discovered plans of the vessel. These have proved of great assistance in the preliminary work of refloating her—the biggest salvage feat ever attempted.

"We thought it probable that the plans would be in the chartroom," said the managing director of the salvaging company.

"They were etched on steel and varnished, and although covered with a deposit through their long immersion, were in perfect condition when cleaned."

"With the help of the plans we have been able to locate every valve in the ship, otherwise a long and laborious task. All being well, the Hindenburg should very soon be completely ready for pumping out."

"The bow end of the ship contains 12,000 tons of water, and when that is expelled the bow should rise and lift the vessel. This will facilitate the work of examining her hull, which, it is thought, may be bent if not actually pierced amidships, as in sinking, she settled on the rocks."

The stopping-up of holes and apertures is being carried out speedily, fourteen divers working continually in shifts, often at a depth of seventy feet. When the last is dealt with there will have been a total of 700 patched.

Private and Officer Won Victoria Cross

For Deed of Unusual Bravery in Zulu Campaign of 1879

Edmund Fowler, who died at Colchester, lately, gained the Victoria Cross in the Zulu campaign, for a deed which Sir Evelyn Wood described as the bravest that he ever saw.

Born sixty-five years ago at Waterford, Ireland, Fowler joined the Scottish Rifles as a private and served in the Zulu campaign of 1879.

On March 28, of that year, Sir Evelyn Wood, who was in charge of the campaign, ordered the storming of the Zibobane Mountains, where the Zulus were strongly posted in caves, and, with modern weapons of precision, were doing considerable damage to the English troops. There were huge boulders in the way, and for some reason there was delay in carrying out the order to advance. At once a couple of officers, with Private Fowler, dashed forward, practically unsupported. The path narrowed, and they were compelled to advance in single file under a galling fire. The officer in command, who was leading, was shot dead as he entered the cave, but his subaltern and Fowler sprang forward and soon cleared the cave, a deed which evoked the tribute from Sir Evelyn Wood, and brought both officer and private the Victoria Cross.

British Mining Capital For Manitoba

Large English Mining Company Said To Be Interested in Manitoba Properties

The Toronto Star says: "It is understood that within the next six weeks announcement will be made of the underwriting of 1,000,000 shares of the Central Manitoba Mines, Limited, known as the W.A.D. These shares will probably be listed in Toronto and New York exchanges."

"This will be one of the most important and significant pieces of mine financing that has been done in Canada, as it marks the permanent entry, into Canadian gold mining, of one of the largest English mining companies, John Taylor and Sons, whose successes in India have developed the Mysore, Ooregum, Nundgod and Balaghat as well as the Ouro Preto in Brazil."

Says England Becoming Dry

Excessive Use of Motor Cars is Explanation Offered

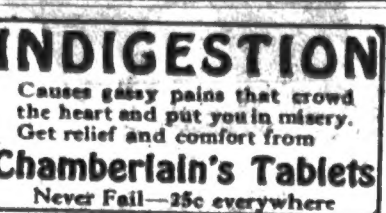

The North London magistrate's dictum, "We are slowly becoming a nation of teetotalers as we acquire our motor cars," affords an explanation seldom thought of. There can be no doubt that motoring has been greatly conducive to our increased sobriety, for one has to have a very clear head to drive a car on crowded roads—think of the Brighton road on a Sunday night—and equally to cross a street and keep clear of cars. I have often thought that bridge has also a great effect. In any case, if you see men drinking in a bar, it is a sure sign that they are 40 or over—London Graphic.

Criticizes Debates

More debates on Canada's foreign policy and on international affairs generally should be heard in the Federal Parliament. Such was the opinion expressed by Warwick Chipman, K.C., associate professor in law at McGill University, in an address at Montreal.

Pears Most Popular Fruit

Statistics Show People Prefer Them to Apples or Peaches

It may surprise many to learn that pears are the most popular of the fruits put up by Canadian canning companies, according to the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior. Latest statistics show that over twice as many cases of pears (300,000) are marketed as compared to apples (135,000) and over three times as many as compared to peaches (85,000). Plums and cherries come next in popular favor with 60,000 and 50,000 cases respectively.

Cheap Education

Foreigners Crowd To Sorbonne Lectures In Paris

For 1 franc 35 centimes, about four cents, it is possible today to attend a lecture at the Sorbonne, Paris, delivered by professors bearing the most famous names in contemporary French science, art, history and literature.

That probably is the record low price in the world for the opportunity to acquire higher learning. This is what it costs to attend the summer vacation courses held especially to give foreigners an acquaintance with French culture.

These courses, which are usually attended mostly by teachers of foreign universities, are growing increasingly popular every year, there being over 500 enrolled this year, as compared with 360 in 1925.

Poised Like Bird Against Mountains

Miss Lydia Fulcher, champion of the Calgary Swimming Club, has shown Lake Louise, its yellow, orange and white poppies, its distant, silent mountains and gay tourist throngs, how the swim dive should be done. She is a true mermaid of the Canadian West, schooled in the aquatic art in the Canadian government's great pool, the Cave and Basin, at Banff, where she has many times swum since her youngest days.

Miss Fulcher became a champion last year at the Banff Winter Carnival when swimmers dived into the Cave and Basin, filled with hot sulphur water from Sulphur Mountain, while the temperature outside through the open roof of the Basin was sinking below the zero mark. This fancy diver has also demonstrated her ability as a speed swimmer. The above photograph shows Miss Fulcher poised in mid-air in the most graceful of dives, with an excellent view of Mount Victoria in the distance—some six and one-half miles away. With the diver is shown also the glacier as well as the foreground in sharp detail despite the fact that the exposure was timed to the infinitesimal fraction of a second.

The new pool, situated at Lake Louise, is one of the most popular in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. It is about 90 feet in length and eight feet in depth at the deepest point. There are springboards at various heights to suit the expert or amateur diver, and the water is warm enough to attract those not wishing to venture into the cooler depths of Lake Louise itself.

Indian Potentate Pays First Visit to Canada

Exhibits from India at Chateau Frontenac.—Inset, The Diwan.

Diwan Bahadur Sir T. Vijayaraghavacharya, distinguished Indian representative of the Madras Presidency in the All-India Legislative Assembly, and a former Prime Minister of the Cochin State of Southern India, who arrived for the first time in Canada, on the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm, opened the National Exhibition at Toronto on August 28th.

The Diwan was a picturesque figure on the streets of the various cities he visited, wearing a native turban of crimson and silver. He anticipates crossing the continent on a lecture tour and visiting the Canadian Rockies. Sighting the Laurentians from a vantage point in his hotel in Montreal he exclaimed, "Surely those aren't the Rockies!" During his trip across Canada he is making a study of conditions, for he believes that a complete understanding between India and Canada could only be reached through a knowledge of each other.

At Quebec he was a guest at the Chateau Frontenac and showed great interest in the display of Indian inlaid and lacquer work which was sent over to Canada by the Indian Government at the Diwan's instigation. He assured E. R. Bruce, director of exhibits for the C.P.R., who met him in Quebec, that he would see that the collection is added to on his return to India. Before the Diwan boarded the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm for Quebec he was skeptical about the preparation of his favorite Indian dishes.

"I am a vegetarian you know," he said, "and as a matter of fact my Indian curries and rice were better prepared on board the Montcalm than is generally the case on Indian steamers. I was agreeably surprised at this."

The great length of the distinguished visitor's name, has, according to the Diwan, been a stumbling block wherever he went. In England he said they hit upon the helpful expedient of referring to him as "Diwan". In a letter to Canadian officials recently he remarked, "Such a contraction is strictly in accordance with Indian etiquette and will be quite in order."

Here and There

Whaling operations off the coast of British Columbia this year have been very successful, and to the end of July the fleet had caught 182 whales. There are only six steamers operating this year, while last year the number was eight. The weather has been good to date and very little fog has been encountered.

Fire chiefs representing the stations in Montreal and various nearby centres left over the Canadian Pacific lines about twenty strong for Windsor recently to attend the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs, which was held August 24th to 27th. The Association is made up of over 250 chiefs from all parts of the Dominion.

Nearly 2,000 racing pigeons, owned by pigeon racing devotees in Montreal, were shipped through the Canadian Pacific Express yards at Montreal recently to various points in Quebec and Ontario where they were released by the agents at the points to which they were shipped to fly back to their home roosts in Montreal. Practice races of this nature have been carried on through the summer months.

Thomas Meighan arrived in Winnipeg recently from Chicago prior to beginning work on his next picture, "The Canadian". The wheat fields of the Canadian West will be the background for this picture. The location men and other members of the troupe passed through Montreal earlier on their way to the west where they were joined by Thomas Meighan, and they are looking over the Calgary district for a suitable location.

Announcement was made at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Toronto recently that, effective September 1st, Robert Niven, theatrical and special business clerk in the passenger department of the Company at Montreal, has been appointed assistant district passenger agent at Toronto. Mr. Niven is well known to the theatrical fraternity passing through Montreal with whom he came in contact in his business.

"I am convinced that Canada offers unlimited possibilities to immigrants from the Old Country," said the Marquis of Salisbury, Chairman of the Empire's Parliamentary Association and leader of the Conservatives in the British House of Lords, when interviewed at Vancouver recently.

His Lordship sailed recently from Vancouver to Australia to attend the Empire Parliamentary Association Conference in that Dominion this fall.

The first automatic or "remote" control power plant on the North American continent is to be built at the Slave Lake side of the tunnel connecting that body of water with Alouette Lake. The contract has been let by the British Columbia Electric Railway to a Vancouver construction company at a price of $500,000. The total cost of constructing a dam across the Alouette River, building a tunnel connecting the lake with Slave Lake and erecting a new power house will be approximately $2,800,000.

Over 50,000 railway cars which if placed end to end would stretch more than 400 miles are now available on the western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway to handle the fall traffic in grain and live stock. The combined capacity of the 41,316 box cars for the grain crop which will be transported to the head of the lakes, is 570,040 tons. These are capable of carrying 60,330,000 bushels of grain each trip. Estimating that the cars make five trips between the grain fields and the head of the lakes or Vancouver the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is in a position to handle more than 300,000,000 bushels during the four months of the grain rush.

Vancouver—All passenger records for outgoing ships to the Orient from the Pacific Coast up to the middle of August were shattered when Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia sailed for Yokohama, August 19, with a passenger list of all classes of 517 in addition to many members of the diplomatic and government services returning after vacations.

Diwan Bahadur Sir T. Vijayaraghavacharya arrived recently from London on Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm at Montreal, en route to Toronto where he will open the National Exhibition at Toronto. The Diwan with the lengthy name gets round off easily for Canadian lips by stating that it is quite proper to refer to him as "The Diwan." He may hear other Canadian titles on leaving Toronto.

Banff Springs—"The last time I visited Banff was over 20 years ago and the trip this year has been a most wonderful revelation," said Brigadier General H. S. Birkett, of Montreal, who stayed at the Banff Springs Hotel on his return from a trip to Alaska. This coincides with the opinion of Morley Roberts, famous English novelist, who after a forty year absence from the West, took part in the last Trail Riders expedition early in August.

Calgary—This city had an exciting moment recently when the Most Honorable the Marquis of Salisbury, leader of the British Conservative party in the House of Lords was made an Indian Chief of the Sarcee and given the name of "Eagle Plume." The ceremony was conducted with all solemnity, His Lordship kneeling on a blanket to receive the honor and bring at the same time presented with a handsome beaded buckskin vest and gloves.

Beating the train to the crossing is always a risk in favor of the train but when a motorist halts his car and waits until an engine is almost alongside him before he tries to get over, then the risk becomes an absolute certainty—against the motorist. This was the case recently in Toronto where a car was signalled to stop by the watchman at a crossing, obeyed the signal, and then decided he would still try and get over. Fortunately there were no injuries and the only sufferer was the automobile.

Pictures of Gertrude Ederle's swimming of the English Channel were sent aboard Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland at the last minute at Southampton and then passed to a waterplane near Anticosti and by it delivered to airplanes at Rimouski, thus beating other pictures speeding to New York on ocean liners by a full twenty-four hours. This is regarded as one of the cleverest and speediest methods of reaching this continent from Great Britain that has ever been successfully accomplished.

Members of the Empire Parliamentary Association, numbering twenty-one delegates from the Parliaments of the United Kingdom and the Irish Free State arrived in Canada recently on board Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland. They travelled across the Dominion from Quebec to Vancouver, stopping en route at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. They sailed by S.S. Aorangi from Vancouver, August 25 for Sydney, Australia, where they will attend the Association Conference to be held in September and October.

Victorious Again!

This picture shows the famous Kolapore Cup, and in the centre, the Clement-Smith trophy, all of which were brought back to Canada by the victorious Canadian Bisley Team, on the Cunard liner Albatross. Many of the members are shown grouped around the trophies: on the right is Major C. R. Crowe, Commandant, and on the left, Major R. O. Wheatley, M.C., Adjutant of the Team. Cash prizes won by the team amounted to $2,000. Against a very large number of contestants composed of the Empire's best crack shots, the Canadians certainly more than upheld the prestige the Dominion enjoys for the encouragement of rifle shooting.

BLACKFALDS

Mr. and Mrs. Morden spent a week in the district of Calgary and Banff, returning a few days ago, having encountered some difficulty with the muddy roads.

After spending a few months in C.N.R. road construction Mr. Hart returned home for a few days last week. Mr. D. McNichol, was a visitor to town and district last week for a few days, he having been away for some time on railroad work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hatson, from Vulcan are here with a view of taking over the operations of the Imperial Hotel.

It is with difficulty that the crop is getting cut, as only short intervals of fine weather prevails. Saturday, Sunday and Monday were excellent days, but Tuesday, rain began falling in the morning, and by three p.m. the earth was mantled with an inch or more of snow. At time of writing, there is every appearance of winter. We are living in hope that Indian Summer is yet to come, and although it is a handicap, harvest will still be gathered in. A slight frost on Friday last caused the sunflowers, potato tops and other vegetables to turn slightly black, while the foliage on the shrubbery has been tinted in variegated colorings. 75 per cent. of the wheat is cut, and some sheaves on the north side of the stocks are sprouting. 10 p.c. of the Oats and Barley is cut.

A TEST SHIPMENT AT LAST

A shipment of coal is to be made at once from this province to Ontario, in connection with which a complete check will be kept on the transportation cost. The necessity of having such a check has been persistently urged for two years past by the provincial government and by others who were interested in the establishment of a market for the product of Alberta mines in eastern Canada. It was recognized that it was essential to further progress. Last year, after it had been arranged for, the Alberta Premier was suddenly informed that it could not be allowed and the shipments that were then made proved as a consequence of very little value.

Now, through an arrangement made between acting minister of mines, and Premier Ferguson of Ontario, three train loads are to go forward immediately from three different Alberta points and with each a man will travel who will log the whole movement. Full information will thus be obtained regarding the various factors entering into the cost of the haul. On the strength of this it will be possible to say at what rate the railways can carry coal without a loss.

The test has been made possible through the accommodation to parliament made by the coal commission that the vote for the purpose of assisting the rail movement of Canadian coal should be renewed. This had been allowed to lapse through lack of action, with an unexpended balance of $180,000. The report was adopted and followed up energetically since then, with the very gratifying result that was announced yesterday.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Memorial Sunday, Sept. 12, 1926, will long be remembered in Lacombe. Favored by perfect weather, the park was at its best and looked really beautiful. It is hard to realize that this is only the second year of its growth; the trees are so luxuriant and the grass is green.

The gathering was presided over by Mr. Pratt, Mayor of Lacombe, who after opening the meeting called on Lieut. Redshaw of the Salvation Army for the opening prayer. A stirring address was given by the Rev. R. B. Layton who fearfully spoke of the part played by our glorious dead, and also showed how essential and right it is for all patriots to honor the flag of the country.

The Mayor then read the beautiful words from the scroll which was sent to all the next of kin after which Mr. John McDonald clearly called out the names which are on the Memorial, while little Roger Oakley and Margaret Allyn placed a flower on the Cenotaph as each name was called.

As the clear notes of "The Last Post" sounded, so ably played by Mr. C. W. Braithwaite, every heart was thrilled.

The Elks' Band played very sympathetically, while wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph by the West We Forget club and various individuals. The band also was a great help during the service.

Here and There

The financial statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued at Montreal for the seven months of 1926 ending July 31st, shows the large increase in the net profits of $8,091,301.52 over the net profits for the first seven months of 1925. The gross earnings were $101,826,207.11, as compared with $90,343,867.75 for the first seven months of 1925.

Unofficial estimates prepared by the authorities of the Department of Commerce, Washington, estimated that Americans visiting Canada this year would spend approximately $190,000,000. This estimate was intimated to be very conservative and that it was more than likely that the amount would exceed the $200,000,000 mark.

Announcement was made recently over the signature of E. N. Todd, freight traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, of the appointment of D. A. Wanklyn as Industrial Commissioner of the Railway, with offices in Montreal. Mr. Wanklyn replaces Graham W. Curtis, who has resigned, to fill the position of general manager for Montreal Rail and Water Terminals, Limited.

Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera Company, accompanied by a party of internationally known financiers of New York, visited the National Exhibition at Toronto recently. Mr. Kahn, who is perhaps the leading art and music patron of the United States, addressed a luncheon of the directors of the Exhibition on September 2nd, the day of the Exhibition, which was set aside as "Music Day."

It is understood that purchases in Canada of 5,000 railway cars may result from the visit of the engineering expert, Mr. Vanderghucht, and the Transport Commissioner's representative, Mr. Baron, who have been delegated by the Soviet Republic to investigate the possibility of securing this number in Canada. They have also been instructed to make a study of the organization of the Canadian railway shops and the repair methods in general.

Three wolf cubs were caught recently near Lake Douville in Northern Ontario by Arthur Beauvais, well-known driver of the Chateau Frontenac dog team at Quebec, and will be trained by Beauvais for the harness. He is confident that by mingling the wolves with huskie puppies for several months they will lose some of their wolfish nature and make an attractive addition to the Chateau team. Beauvais states that, while wolves have endurance, they have not the "heart" of a huskie dog.

Two world's swimming records were established at the Crystal Gardens swimming pool at Victoria recently, when Ethel McGarry, of New York, swam 880 yards in 12 minutes and 41 seconds, or nine seconds better than the previous woman's record for this event; and when Agnes Gerahy, also of New York, clipped five and two-fifths seconds off the previous record for 200 yards, by completing the distance in three minutes and 12 and three-fifths seconds.

Celebrating the change in name of the historic Dominion Express Company to that of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, a street parade in Montreal was held September first, the day of the change in name, consisting of every description of Express vehicle, new and old. Sam Nightingale, a driver of 30 years' service, headed the parade seated in a wagon of 1890 vintage, and hauled by "Babe," a horse that has been in constant service with the company for 19 years. Similar parades were held at Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

BERLIN OPERATES EUGENICS BUREAU

BERLIN—"Love is not enough" may be said to represent the motto of Berlin's first municipal marriage medical advice bureau which has opened here.

It is hoped that the institution will help young people contemplating marriage to recognize their responsibilities to the race, so that if they are not pronounced medically fit, they will break off their betrothals. German social reformers and eugenicists are watching the experiment with great interest. A big queue of young people formed at the entrance to the bureau when it opened, and the doctors had a busy time. Medical men called on in each case to answer the vital question, "May I marry?" appreciated that a negative answer might mean a tragedy, made a careful examination in every case, doubtful cases being referred to specialists for decision. Marriage candidates examined had to furnish medical histories of their parents and grandparents. To the young people passed as fit the doctors handed certificates; to those rejected they gave good advice, calling on them to abandon the idea of

Model 330 Stevens latest 1923 double barrel hammerless shotgun, accurate and durable

Lasting accuracy in this new Stevens

Model 330, just out! And this newest Stevens is fully up to the traditional family standards. You never saw such a finish on a shotgun at anywhere near its price. That frame is case-hardened and polished with a finish that lasts.

Examine the stock—14 inches of selected black walnut, solid checked. Full pistol grip—solid rubber butt plate. Model 330 sure "looks as good as she shoots."

Next the barrels—made of High-Pressure compressed steel. They have the same lasting accuracy that three generations of sportsmen have found in Stevens barrels—accuracy obtained by the special Stevens method of boring.

But no feature of the new 330 Stevens is more amazing than its price. You can pay more, a lot more, but you can't buy better shooting qualities.

THE ELECTION RETURNS

On election night the returns were received over wireless at the Western Globe office, and from five o'clock until midnight, returns came in without a break. The receiving set used was an Atwater-Kent six tube set with loud speaker, kindly installed by Mr. A. M. Frizzell, who is the local dealer for this firm, and the hundreds who listened to the broadcast expressed themselves as never having heard such clear reception. Every word came in as plainly as if the announcer had been in the office, and although the air is not considered good for reception just now, there was hardly any interference. The receiver can be tuned in very closely with very little trouble, and will take in any place on the continent. If you are thinking of putting in a set, you should get Mr. Frizzell to demonstrate the Atwater-Kent. In addition to radio sets Mr. Frizzell carries a full line of electrical fixtures and household articles, such as lamps, irons, toasters, percolators, etc. His store is on Nanton St., just north of the Globe office, and he will be pleased to have you come in and see his line.

WENT OFF WITH A BANG

The Baptist Young People's Union got off to a good start on Monday evening, Sept. 13. Forty-one young people gathered for a social entertainment when the doors of "training for service" were flung wide open upon the fall and winter months. Before drawing up the banquet table, which was beautifully arranged, a bright entertainment of music, recitations, and speeches was greatly enjoyed. Among those who spoke were Winnie Dunn, Marjorie Lorrimer, and Morgan Berg, young people who told in an able, appreciative and ardent way, the benefits which they themselves had reaped in the B.Y.P.U. They urged their guests who are attending school and engaged in other occupations, not to miss the advantages which this organization offers to their lives for service. Mr. Berggren in a racy speech and on behalf of the B.Y.P.U. presented Misses Dunn and Lorrimer with beautiful bouquets of flowers, as an evidence of appreciation, for the loyal service Winnie had rendered as president, and for the brilliant way Marjorie had represented the society in the Oratorical Contest at the Young People's Convention last July. Mr. Robert, formerly Director of Young People's Work was present with his merry laugh, contagious good humor and timely word, holding before his hearers the ideals of character emulated in the life of Jesus. "Believe," he said "that purity, love, truth, and high mindedness does exist in the lives of many people today, and these virtues may be attained by each."

After all had partaken of the dainties so temptingly spread, an election of officers took place. The following being elected: Pres. Winnie Dunn; Vice-Pres. Dora Pocock; Sec. Martha McFarlane; Treas. Ernest Lewis; Mr. Cameron, Mr. Berggren, Mr. Deckard and Mr. Eberle were chosen as leaders of groups.

The whole affair was a huge success and may be interpreted as a harbinger of delightful meetings ahead.

Services in the Baptist Church next Sunday. You will be welcomed at the S. S. at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. Subject: "The Healing of the Nobleman's Son."

ALL WELL WITH WEST

DECLARES HEAD OF C.P.R.

Montreal, Sept. 11. "I have made regular and frequent trips to western Canada during the past ten years and I can safely say that at no time have I seen greater evidence of its progress or more confidence in the future than was observable on the trip which the directors have just completed," said E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., on return from a tour of inspection over C.P. lines as far as Victoria.

"It is true," said Mr. Beatty "that the weather conditions on the prairies during the past week have not been favorable and that cutting and threshing operations have been generally delayed, but this circumstance has had no other effect among the farmers than temporary disappointment that they cannot have their grain ready for shipping as soon as was expected.

Throughout the prairie provinces there was no other feeling than that of buoyant faith in the country and its future—a faith which is amply justified by the really remarkable recovery the whole west is making." Mr. Beatty said that B.C. is notable for the improvement in general conditions there.

"Vancouver is flourishing, and it is without question one of the busiest cities in the whole of Canada. Trade through the port which has increased very greatly for the past few years still continues to show improvement and the three major industries of the province, lumber, fruit, and mining are in better position than they have been for some time past."

"I have rarely seen," said Mr. Beatty, "such quiet but universal confidence expressed nor at any time have there been, I think such a widespread demand for immigration measures. It is felt that immigration to an extent that will meet the country's needs can result only from two causes; one, a general balanced prosperity within the country itself, and the other, effective, efficient and active efforts by the government and by the colonization organizations working in conjunction with the government."

"The old fight against geography will always be maintained in Canada," he said "but the success of our efforts in meeting the geographical disabilities will be greatly expedited by more people, and what now appears to be a problem embarrassing to our progress will disappear when our population exceeds the present by a few more millions. Canada is a very great country and its widely separated territories require more than usual mutual understanding by its people. Prosperity generally begets a more tolerant feeling towards the needs of other parts of the country and I found nothing in western Canada that indicated any lack of appreciation of the needs of the east, though of necessity and quite naturally, local interests are not most sight of. One of the factors which has contributed to this result, has, I think been the travel of easterners to western Canada which is yearly becoming more extensive and which has the dual result of supplementing the easterner's knowledge and therefore making him a better Canadian and of adding to his appreciation of the value and national importance of western industry and enterprise."

"It appears to me," said Mr. Beatty,

"and this view is shared by the directors of the company, that a better real Canadian sentiment is developing throughout the whole country, and this in spite of the rather disturbed atmosphere which is incident to a strenuous election contest."

"Railway facilities to ensure the movement of the crop are already provided," he said, "and given fair weather conditions, the crop will be large and its transportation expeditious."

Japan Changes Emigration Policy

Will No Longer Encourage Countrymen to Emigrate to Canada

Henceforth Japan intends to colonize Hokkaido, Formosa, and other possessions, but in future does not intend to immigrate to Canada, Australia and other countries, realizing that the previous policy caused much trouble and ill-feeling, a foreign office spokesman announced in Tokyo.

The spokesman declared that Japan had reversed its entire emigration policy, after discovering the futility and folly of previous efforts to send out its excess population to places where it is not wanted.

The present policy is to increase trade with other countries, especially by those of the South Pacific, with all efforts of manufacturers and industrialists concentrated on lowering costs and building up exports, he said.

He announced that a South Pacific trade conference would be held at Tokyo on October 9.

The Meddling Bolsheviks

Gold Being Used to Strangle British Industries Says London Paper

Some people say that this is a powerful country and that it is great empire have no reason to fear anything from the Bolsheviks. But the Bolsheviks were quite strong enough to inspire the general strike and they were impudent enough to take part in it openly, by offering to supply the T.T.C. with money. Their offer was refused, but their tainted gold is now being used to strangle our industries by cutting off our supply of coal. Thus they hope by maintaining and extending the coal strike to achieve more shows the aim of the ruin of Britain which originally they ought to have passed in one blow in the general strike. They may have no chance of succeeding in their object, but the British public cannot understand why they are allowed to meddle thus in British affairs. London Daily Mail

If the British Left India

Country Would Be at Complete Mercy Of Bolsheviks

It is the poor, small Indian agent, the half-bred product of the Indian university who carries most of the trouble. To many of these men the career of an agent is the only one open to their professedly Indian, in which they have a slight opinion than the best of the career of an agent. There are now twenty-five agents of India for the British, which is almost at the Mahomedan, a much as the British. The idea is to get the British out of India and then to make short work of the Mahomedan. But this is an idle dream, for it comes to fighting the followers of the prophet who more than hold their own. All that would happen would be that India would become a slaughter house at the mercy of the Bolsheviks, who would have no time in sweeping down into India and taking possession. Truth London

A Paying Industry

Cultivating Tourists Has Become a Very Valuable Business

Does it pay to cultivate the tourist industry? asks the Peterborough Examiner. Here is an estimate from over the border that enables this question to be easily answered.

The six leading resort and tourist states—California, Florida, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Colorado—report a gross volume of $2,500,000,000. While it is a conservative estimate that the other states show an equal volume, in addition it is the belief that citizens of the United States spend $1,500,000,000 more in other countries.

This industry, measured in dollars and cents, stands head and shoulders above nearly every other business in the United States today. It is five times the value of all the lumber and timber products in the Republic, and three times that of the coal mined. It is two and one-half times the value of all the steel produced, and nearly double the value of the annual output of automobiles.

In short, the tourist business has assumed such enormous proportions that all communities that have anything to offer visitors are justified in exerting every effort to secure their share of this industry.

Offers Great Opportunity

Quarter Million More Single Men Than Single Women in Canada

Canada apparently has it all over the Old Country when it comes to opportunities for "spinsters." According to the latest issue of the Canadian Year Book there are a quarter of a million more single men in Canada than there are single women.

In all Canada there are two and a half million single men and two and a quarter single women. These 250,000 bachelors would round good to the women in the Old Country, where they outnumber the single men by a big majority.

There are one and a half million each of married men and women and 119,000 widowers and 236,000 widows. There are 117,000 more widows than there are widowers, so, of course, the "spinsters" will have them to contend with.

But there are also the widowers, so chances are fairly even. There were also 36,000 divorced men in Canada in 1925, and 37,000 divorced women.

Population Of Ireland Declines

Irish Free State Population Shows Considerable Decrease

The census figures just published by the Irish Free State show the population is 2,972,802, as compared with 3,139,688 in 1911. The decrease is 166,886. The Northern Ireland census shows a population of 1,256,322, making the total for all Ireland 4,229,124. The population in Ulster has increased over the 1911 figures for the territory.

While the returns are disappointing, the report gives several natural causes, including the fact that the British troops have been withdrawn with their dependents, accounting for 31,000. Those killed in the war are counted for an almost equal addition in number. More than 8,000 members of the Irish constabulary, which has been disbanded, have left the country.

Britain's Oldest Living Soldier

Guardsman Served At Balaklava Is 100 Years Old

How many people who are familiar with Lady Butler's painting of "The Roll Call After Balaklava," know that the mounted soldier seen in the picture is still alive? He is General Sir George Higginson, who has just celebrated his 100th birthday. He is Britain's oldest living soldier, is still hale and hearty, and he is known as "The Father of the Guards."

"This famous body of soldiers is not due to its hardy veterans," Francis Wood, another Guardsman, who is now eighty-three years old has just completed the 700-mile walk from London to Colchester and back. He undertook this remarkable feat as the result of a challenge at a regimental dinner.

Should Not Ignore Franchise

Help of Women Is Badly Needed in Political Life

Canadian women if it is hoped will never meet the startling rebuke given their American sister by Mrs. Oliver W. Wright in her presidential address to the 30th delegate of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in convention in Des Moines, Ia. She said: "The indifference of the average woman of the province, and especially of the cities, to a matter of great importance. The women are needed and could make a great contribution to the political life of our nation, just as they have proven so valuable an addition to the business and professional world."

Men lived on an average ten or fifteen years ago than they do now. Yes, there were no automobiles, but they undoubtedly thought and such as the most efficient slaughtering tools.

The owner of a yacht and an automobile ought to be able to run into debt faster than the man who has to walk.

The Country And Its Consuming Population
By C. W. Peterson

With comparatively few exceptions, the country towns of Canada have been going down hill or have barely held their own during recent years. Various causes have been ascribed to this disturbing phenomenon chiefly improved highways and the general use by farmers of automobiles, which enable them periodically to do their trading, and, incidentally, indulge in recreation, in the cities, thus cutting off an enormous volume of farm labor employed and, consequently, the consuming population tributary to the country towns. Rural mail delivery has largely cut out the visit to the post office and to forth.

But new possibilities are opening up for the smaller centres. It is a fundamental fact that organized life passes through crises and, automatically almost, out of them again. Every spell of depression in human affairs is just the winter period which precedes the dawn of spring.

While old kinds of business have disappeared, new kinds of business have appeared in the towns. There are the sales agencies for automobiles and trucks. Every town has them. The man in charge is related also to thousands of others like him in a wonderful system of salesmanship in a line which was absolutely unknown in the towns twenty years ago. Farm mechanization has also led to larger and better implement houses, tractor agencies and filling stations.

The towns are also organized better than they used to be, to ship out their products. Here is a place of fourteen hundred people, where they have established a big poultry and egg-shipping centre. A modern building, properly arranged and ventilated, with well-equipped office rooms, a good warehouse, ample side track from the main line of the railroad. Carloads of poultry shipped direct to the cities. Can you beat it?

Who says that the town is not coming back? The farmers are shipping the cream out from the towns, through local agencies, and getting cream checks for it every week—real cash money from the outside world—cashing their checks at the local banks and spending a lot of the money with the local merchants.

It is true there was a time when city high schools lured the young people away from the towns. But during the past decade the towns have erected their own high school buildings. As one travels across Canada, he is impressed with the fact that towns everywhere have gone into the high school business. The local young folks are living at home and going to school. That is making a new social life in the town, such as was not known previously.

From the cities they are doing some things that are helping the towns to return. Certain railroad companies are moving their repair shops from big city centres out to small division points. It saves overhead cost, minimizes the risk of labor troubles, and secures service stations for repair work.

In the east, there is a notable tendency to scatter industrial plants. This has become so marked that an organization in the United States has recently made surveys and published the results, of the influence of these industries upon the rural areas through which they have been scattered. In a journal published for factory executives there recently appeared a series of articles, entitled "Why We Moved to the Country." They told the personal experiences and impressions of managers who had taken their industries out of the city centres into the small towns. At any rate, the towns are returning, and the prospects that have been croaking disaster are already getting old and senile.

But while the close observer is bound to conclude that a new era has arisen for the country towns, he cannot think the probable fact that the new development that awaits the rural centre is going to be slow steps. Steps are made towards increasing Canada's almost stationary population through a vigorous immigration policy, which would benefit town and country alike. Every citizen is interested in filling up our vacant agricultural spaces throughout the length and breadth of the Canadian country. In order that we may approach a proper balance between rural and urban population which, at present sadly out of proportion.

Humph. What of that? said the Canadian woman. My husband is often away two weeks at a time on a jack.

The Jumper Costume Still Plays A Winning Game

The sun never sets on the activities of the fashionable two-piece mode. Here we see it in its smartest and most approved version—straight, simple, overblouse, and softly flaring skirt, so charmingly youthful for the slender figure, and equally flattering to more mature lines. The blouse opens at the neck under a flat collar and chooses a collar of the boyish type. There are gathers at each shoulder where the back joins the front, and two set in pockets furnish the only trimming note. The long sleeves are set in at the armhole and finished with linked cuffs. The blouse No. 1044, is in sizes 34, 35, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 2 1/4 yards 36 inch plain material, 3/4 yard contrasting color. The flared skirt, No. 1298, is joined to a body lining, and is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 2 1/4 yards 36 inch material; bodice top, 3/4 yard 36-inch lining. ## Good Town For Beggars

Mendicants Collect Million and Half Yearly in New York

A million and a half dollars annually in pennies, nickels and dimes drop into the cups and caps of the 200 crippled and blind beggars selling chewing gum and pencils on the streets of New York.

The estimate was given by the police department. Frank L. Dunn, secretary to Lieut. William C. Whiteley, commanding the mendicants' bureau of the department, estimated that the average cripple should pay an income tax of $7,000.

The great sucker districts for professional panhandlers, are Wall Street and Fifth Avenue. On a good day, undisturbed by police, Dunn believes a panhandler clears $10 easily.

Prefers Men As Jurors

Less Severe Than Women Says British Member of Parliament

Women may be the "softer sex," but Sir Herbert Nichol, member of parliament and recorder for York, does not think they have demonstrated it for their service as members of juries. "I venture to think that a man is safer in the hands of the bench than he would be in the hands of a present day jury. One finds the fair sex far more severe than the old-fashioned jury," Sir Herbert declared.

If there were no such word as fall, some unscrupulous man would soon invent one.

A woman seldom knows what she doesn't want until after she gets it.

Present Bronze To Japanese City

A tablet of bronze weighing 100 pounds, has been presented, together with three silk flags of Japan, England and the United States, to the Hon. Mr. Kanazawa Matakuro, mayor of Bepu, by passengers on the Empress of Scotland on her latest world cruise. It will be erected in one of the principal squares of Bepu, a truly native Japanese town, which has never before been visited by a world-cruising liner, and which welcomed the Empress of Scotland and her passengers in the vociferous fashion of the west.

Tastefully worked out, the appearance of the tablet is one that is certain to attract attention, and in the central location of the city where it is placed it will be of lasting interest both to the inhabitants of the city and to visitors passing through.

Mayor Matakuro, in his speech acknowledging receipt of the tablet, thanked the Scotland's captain, Commander R. G. Latta, for this token of esteem on the part of the passengers, and said that it was felt that a great honor had been done the city of which he was chief magistrate. He hoped the Scotland on her next cruise would repeat the visit, and assured all concerned that the city would leave nothing undone to give the ship and her passengers an enthusiastic reception if they should do so. On this occasion nothing was omitted to give the visitors a high ideal of what Japanese hospitality and courtesy were, and that they were by no means mere words. The passengers carried away with them very pleasant memories of the incident.

No Use For Conscientious Objectors

International Democratic Congress For Peace Unanimous on this

Although the International Congress for Peace has emphasized more than ever at this year's sittings that it believes in peace, it has no use for conscientious objectors. This stand was taken at the last meeting of the congress when a resolution was adopted that conscientious objectors, in countries with compulsory military service, be forced to perform work equally hard and disagreeable for the same period as those who serve in the army.

The delegates, numbering early 5,000, ended the congress in complete unanimity, despite the fact that they represented twenty-three nations with different ideals. One point emphasized by the delegates was that poor youths should have the same chance for higher education as the sons of the wealthy classes in countries where, unlike Canada, working one's way through college is unknown.

Matined veterans of the great war told of their actual experiences at the front and urged the need of international peace at the congress.

Hiring Fairs Still Held

"Hiring Fairs" are held in the large country towns of England. All farm laborers and hoes gather in the streets of the nearest towns and wait for someone to employ them for the next six months. After the question of wages is settled and a shilling given as guaranty, everyone joins in merry making.

Stirs Up Tribesmen

A Reuters' dispatch from Tehran says that Salim Ed Dowleh, uncle of the former Shah of Persia, has reached Kurdistan and is endeavoring to stir up trouble with the tribesmen. The government is taking energetic measures to deal with the situation.

Turning Point In Biology

Recent Experiments Tend to Revive Theory Expounded by Darwin

"A turning point in biology," that was how a British savant described the address delivered at Oxford before the British Association for the Advancement of Science by Professor W. Macdougall, of Harvard University, on deductions drawn by him from experiments with rats. The savant thus generously lauding his colleague from America was Professor Myers, who was prominent in organizing the year's British Association meeting.

Referring to Professor Macdougall, he said: "His experiments with rats revive the belief current since Darwin's time, and now established for the first time, that mental attitude on a particular direction can be intensified by breeding, and that dependent physical characteristics can be produced in same way and as with rats so with men."

Professor Myers said this was a fundamental thing in education and will have great future results, although much remains to be done.

Millions For Religion

$648,000,000 Contributed By Churches in America Last Year

North American churches gave $648,000,000 to religion last year. It is estimated by Dr. Luther E. Lovejoy, president of the United Stewardship Council of the Churches of Christ of Canada and the United States. His figures are based upon totals compiled for the Protestant Churches and estimates made of the Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths.

The 25 boards connected with the Stewardship Council of the Federal Council of Churches gave $88,815,000 to benevolences, including missions of all kinds, $332,552,000 to congregational expenses and miscellaneous gifts to make a total of $1,000,000. Dr. Lovejoy estimates that the Jews gave $18,000,000, Roman Catholics $168,000,000, and inter-religious organizations $10,000,000.

More Criminal Cases

Increase in Crime Is Indicated by Number of Cases Handled

Canadian criminal statistics show an increase of 10.6% in the total number of cases recorded for the year ended September 30 last, as compared with the corresponding period ended September 30, 1924. Cases recorded in 1925 totalled 182,393. There were 1,139,8 convictions and 3,810 acquittals. Fifty-four charges of murder were recorded, 36 secured acquittal, and 18 were convicted. In 1924 sixty-four murder charges were made, and 21 convictions secured.

Peril From Air Traffic

A new form of traffic peril? While riding in an automobile with her family, Mrs. A. D. Montague, of Cincinnati, suffered a severe gash in the top of her head from a soft drink bottle which crashed through the top of the car. The bottle evidently had been dropped from an aeroplane passing overhead.

Probably more young men would be able to earn their own living if they didn't have fathers to support them.

King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, is said to be the wealthiest reigning sovereign.

Monument To War Nurses

Erected to Nurses of Canada Who Gave Their Lives in Great War

The monument, unveiled in Canada's hall of fame in the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, and dedicated to the memory of Canada's nurses who were killed in the Great War, will bear the following inscription, inscribed in its base.

"Erected by the nurses of Canada in remembrance of their sisters who gave their lives in the Great War, nineteen fourteen nineteen eighteen and to perpetuate a noble tradition in the relations of the old world and the new."

"Led by the spirit of humanity across the seas woman, by her tender ministrations to those in need has given to the world the example of an heroic service, embracing three centuries of Canadian history."

The words were composed for the memorial by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King when, as premier of Canada, he made arrangements for the erection of the monument.

German Ports Are Prosperous

Shipping Magnate Says Trade Growing Up By Leaps and Bounds

Rotterdam already the first harbor on the European continent, is enjoying a period of unprecedented prosperity. The immense ports that stretch along the rivers are choked with commerce. One is astonished to see the endless chains of ships loaded to the water's edge. The prolonged coal strike in England is proving a boon to the Dutch city and the Ruhr district, of which Rotterdam is the export harbor. Coming into the country are shipments of Canadian and Russian grain. A Dutch shipping magnate told the writer that Germany's trade was growing by leaps and bounds, and that export through Holland already surpassed the volume of 1913.

Chemical Warfare

There is no longer a choice in regard to the adoption of chemical warfare. Sir James Irvine, noted British scientist, told the Institute of Politics at present the nation which possesses the most efficient chemical industries, possesses also the most efficient instruments of war, for as long as the chemical factory remains, it is a potential war factory, he said.

Unusual Instructions

"My practice is not to be sold and no debts are to be collected," was the unusual instruction in the will left by Dr. Wallace Brown Crookery, London, Eng. The physician left slightly more than 9,000 pounds sterling, of which 50 pounds was stipulated for the upkeep of his pet dog.

"There!" the woman on the cushions exclaimed. "You are delightful again, as you always are when you're trapped. Now I shall sip my drink, if I may, while you proceed to your cross examination. See? I am careless of my wits; I expose them to the same whys."

"Sally becomes you, wonderfully," he said regarding her as with a deep sense of appreciation. "Somebody a master painter will parody the Madonna with you as his model, and give the world a new masterpiece. Your lips are set just right for him, now. Presently I shall drink a toast especially to everything that isn't Madonna-like about you, since I can do that better than paint. Meanwhile, I admit to being curious. Mind you, only curious. What are you going to do with—or to—the girl?"

"Do you think an impulse of last night, born of my own thrill at the riot that must be going on in her mind, must necessarily be so definite as that? With some hidden motive behind it?"

He did not at once reply. His thoughts seemed to have wandered off for a moment. When he spoke again his tone had lost all veneer of banter. "I do not believe you ever surrendered to an impulse in your life," he said, his words studiously measured. "There can be nothing in common between you and this girl who has no other masquerade than her own natural vividness. She's more likely to be a thorn than a foil. So you have a motive as clearly defined as the pretense you are trying to bring into your eyes."

Yvonne treated him to her silvery laugh and would have interrupted him, but he went on, calmly: "Brandon is obviously playing a game. I am convinced that he knows where her money came from and why, despite his elusiveness. And I am convinced, too, that you do not, yet you deliberately spin a web for the girl and play spider to the fly. Why?"

If he thought to provoke the woman he cross examined, Kenilworth was disappointed. She studied him coolly. "I'm not so sure my whiskey dulled your wits after all," she observed. "You argue beautifully. I shall give you your triumph. I have a motive. As clearly defined as you picture it. As for the girl herself, I shall probably like her tremendously, though that is of no importance. And it doesn't follow, necessarily, that my motive means evil to her. That will be up to her."

"There's going to be quite a lot put up to her, I should imagine," Kenilworth agreed. "You simply give her an added problem. How does Brandon associate in your plotting?"

"Now, Roddy, I didn't guarantee to go into details. There aren't any, yet. You may be unperturbed, however. Brandon wanted me to ask her to come to me. He doesn't know why I consented—and you won't either, until you discover for yourself. Now then, I'm going to uncurl my legs and come out of my female Hindu goddess pose. It's becoming uncomfortable. So I shall be pondering evil no longer. You observe I do not ask you what your intentions are toward my ward, as I should, but that is because I'll see for myself. I know your procedure perfectly."

"Jove," young Dormister exclaimed, "what a pretty girl!"

He gave her his hand and helped her to her feet. "I have a sense of being completely baffled," he remarked, ruefully. "I learn only what I already knew, and nothing more, except—"; suddenly his tone altered. "Except that you have tortured every living thing and wreck every castle that was ever built in the air if Brandon would hold out his hand to you!"

"That," she retorted, "is the high ball. Perhaps I had better change my brand of Scotch after all." But when Kenilworth had gone Yvonne dropped into the nearest chair. If he returned and studied her, at any time during the next half hour, he would have concluded that there could be no doubt about it this time. She pondered.

It was late in the afternoon when Walker stood behind his mistress, who was serving tea to a small company of men and women around the same stone table, in the winter garden, on which Kenilworth had perched himself earlier in the day. "The misanthrope who is expected has arrived," the butler murmured.

Yvonne rose at once. "I shall be back in time for a cigarette, at least," she added to her excuses. She crossed her drawing room, from its entrance into the winter garden, just in time to see Teddy Dormister, the one who was born a lord but could persuade no one to consider the cold and once seriously, come to a standstill before the slight, girlish figure that stood directly in his path from the reception hall, where he had just turned over his coat and stick to Walker, across the room to the garden. Teddy Dormister kept none of his secrets or his enthusiasms to himself. He brought a new store of both on his daily droppings in at Yvonne's hotel, was, in a measure, a continuously open house when she was in town.

The newcomer stared into Joanna's face frankly. He fumbled in his pocket and produced his eye glass, which he carefully screwed into his eye. Then he scrutinized her again, utterly oblivious to her equally unabashed stare at him.

"Jove!" young Dormister exclaimed. "What a pretty girl!" Yvonne was in time to hear Joanna's reply:

"How in the world did you ever happen?"

CHAPTER XIV.

Across the Threshold

Both Joanna and Lord Teddy were startled by Yvonne's peal of laughter. "Now, Teddy, you know what everybody thinks when you're around," she declared. "You must really make up an answer some time." Turning to Joanna, she informed her: "He's not always so bad-mannered, you know. I fancy you'll get along famously. I'll present him as Lord Dormister, but you must just call him Teddy—it fits him better." To the man, who struck Joanna as something of an overgrown youth, she added: "This is my new portiere, one I'm going to be very fond of—Miss Manners. After awhile you'll be calling her Joanna."

Lord Teddy was all embarrassment and contrition. "Oh, I say!" he fumbled. "I thought it would be someone who—ah—you were having to sing or dance, or do something like that, you know tomorrow night perhaps? Didn't know she was a friend. Sorry, terribly."

Joanna who had scant ideas of what one does at a meeting with a lord, even a Teddy sort of one, scrambled desperately for what she would have termed, conclusively, the right comeback. She was disturbed, too, by that apology for supposing her as one who had come to sing, or to dance, for something like that. It implied something, she didn't know what, but something about her that was not as it should be. Yvonne shot a frown at Dormister and went to her rescue.

"Run along now, Teddy," she commanded. "There's tea or alcohol, whichever you prefer, in the garden. You know everybody in town. Miss Manners will remember, anyhow, that you were perfectly in earnest despite your rudeness."

He wanted to add something to his apology to straighten it out, but Yvonne bawled him off unceremoniously. To Joanna she said: "It's a dear, is Teddy. He follows me around the world. He says wherever I am some husband's wife needs consolation and it's his duty to be on hand. And he declares he's perfectly sincere about it." (To be continued)

Display Human Intelligence

Clever Things Done By Insects In London Zoo

An ant that ran amok in the London Zoo insect house and some bees that worked on night shifts to get their job done have been observed by Miss L. E. Cheesman, formerly curator of that department.

A colony of stingless bees, she relates, were never known to emerge if the temperature was below 72 degrees Fahr., and no worker was visible after sundown; but on one occasion when the workers were engaged in building the entrance to the nest they worked on it all day and far into the night at a temperature of 65 degrees.

It is not unusual for the social insects to work on night shifts when there is an urgent piece of work to be done. She says a colony of wood ants showed unusual solicitude for their major workers when these were in danger of drowning in a moat. Rescue parties were sent down to the bank to drag them ashore and dry them. But after a new brood hatched out there was no more display of anxiety.

Miss Cheesman's ants had a dead mouse given them for food. They buried it too near their moat and it rolled into the water. The next dead mouse given them they secured by digging on the side farthest from the water, thus avoiding the danger of the previous disaster.

Japan Has New Intoxicant

Man Claimed to Be Overcome Viewing Cherry Blossoms

A new intoxicant has appeared in Japan. In the precincts of a shrine at Kamido in Japan the other day, a policeman on patrol discovered what he took to be a corpse. He telephoned to the village office for a coffin, which was at once sent, and the body put in. On the way to the village office, however, the corpse in the coffin revived and began to sing and dance, to the alarm of the bearers. It was later ascertained that he was a young man, aged 23, who had been made intoxicated by viewing the cherry blossoms.

A Modern Fish Plant

A modern fish plant, consisting of complete equipment for the cleaning and freezing of fish, has been installed at Waterways, Alta., by the McInnes Fish Company. Special barges have also been constructed for bringing the fish to the end of steel. The fish are sold on the New York and Chicago markets.

Many Visit Waterton Park

The Canadian national park at Waterton Lakes, in the southwestern part of Alberta, has had a total of 11,500 visitors to the end of July, according to official registrations in the park, which shows the increasing interest in this more recently developed Canadian national playground. A million dollar hotel is being erected.

Wild Birds Disappearing

England's wild birds are disappearing, according to the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds, which blames increasing motor traffic, the breaking up of great estates for buildings, and the disappearance of woods, parks and meadows.

India Printing Postage Stamps

For Seventy Years Has Depended On Britain For Supply

After a lapse of seventy years, India is printing her own stamps again. In 1854 an attempt was made to print Indian stamps in Calcutta, but a trial of only a few months was sufficient to prove that labor troubles and climatic problems were too great a stumbling block. The Honorable East India Company, which in those days was the governing power in India, accordingly entered into a contract with a London firm for the supply of postage stamps. The first of this firm's productions were put on sale in October, 1855, and the same firm has continued to supply the Government of India over an unbroken period of seventy years. The stamps were at first inscribed, "East India," and were for a number of years watermarked with an elephant's head. When Queen Victoria assumed the title of Empress of India, in 1877, the change was marked by the alteration of the inscription on the stamps to "India," and from that time until the present day the watermark has been a single star in the center of each stamp.

There has long been a feeling in India that she should not have to be dependent on Britain for her stamps and paper currency. The Great War, with its problems of transportation, due to the submarine menace, emphasized this point.

The first idea was that the site of the new works should be at Delhi, and a number of essays for a projected new series of Indian stamps were indeed produced there. Owing to the prevalence of dust storms in the neighborhood of Delhi, it was later decided to transfer the press to Nasik, where the printing of Indian currency notes was commenced last year. Towards Christmas registration envelopes and postcards were produced, and now after a lapse of seventy years, India is again printing her own stamps.

The new Indian stamps are being printed on a new-curling paper, somewhat thicker than the old, and are watermarked with an "all over" or "multiple" star device, which shows portions of three or four stars on each stamp. Thus the printings are easily distinguished philatelically.

How Burberry Coat Originated

Opinion of Doctor Gave Idea to Young Inventor

The romance of an English firm built up by the personality and courage of a man with an idea is recalled by the death of Thomas Burberry, the inventor of the Burberry waterproof coat. He died at his residence at Hook, near Basingstoke, in his 91st year, recently.

The origin of the invention of the "Burberry" was a conversation that Mr. Burberry, when a young man, had with a doctor. Stating that it was better for a man to get wet through than to be kept dry in a mackintosh, the doctor expressed the opinion that the ideal waterproof was one which would withstand all wind and rain in a reasonable degree and yet allow air to reach the body.

Mr. Burberry christened his invention "Guberdine," until King Edward got into the habit of saying, "Give me my Burberry." The name stuck.

At his death the Burberry business was capitalized at over $10,000,000, and its coats are known and worn the world over.

Moslem Laws Are Strict

New Ones Issued Carry Severe Penalty For Violators

New commandments have been issued by Ibn Saud, leader of the strict Wahabi sect of Moslems, and now master of a big Arab kingdom which includes the holy cities of Mecca and Medina. Attendance at the prayer services on Friday, the Moslem Sabbath, is made compulsory, while violators of the temperance laws are liable to six months' imprisonment. Severe punishment is to be meted out to distillers or vendors of strong drink, a second offence being punishable by deportation. The use of tobacco is also an offence punishable with imprisonment, and anti-religious agitators will be severely dealt with. Public security officials have been given full authority to enforce these regulations.

Big Flour Mill

Spillers new flour mill in Calgary which will have a daily output capacity of 2,000 barrels at the start, is rapidly nearing completion. It is expected that the installation of the grain handling and other mill machinery will be completed in October.

New Alberta Industry

Another new Alberta industry is that of growing Grimm alfalfa seed and it has increased to such proportions that during the past year no less than 200,000 pounds of seed were marketed.

Not Impressed With New York

English Visitor Says It Is Noisy, Ill-Mannered City

James Dunn, writer on the London Daily Mail, who is known for his articles on the "seamy side of life" under the pen name of R. E. Corder, has concluded his visit to Chicago and New York city and sailed for London on the Canarder Aquitania.

According to the impressions he gave to a reporter before leaving, Mr. Dunn did not appear to have been greatly pleased with New York, especially its police courts and its noises.

"The best side of New York," Mr. Dunn said, "is the outside. The more I saw of the city the better I liked such charming retreats as Mountain Lakes and other similar places in New Jersey and the various nesting nooks of Long Island."

"New York is the only city that screams at one," London lums, Park coos, Berlin drones, but New York just yells. O. Henry has written about the voice of the city; but it isn't a voice, it's a vice."

"Not only is New York the noisiest, but it is among the worst-mannered of cities." The prevailing idea seems to be that rudeness means efficiency and politeness spells weakness. New York should take lessons from Chicago in manners. In Chicago they may murder you, but they don't grate on you.

"Nerves, just nerves. That is what New York is, suffering from, and everybody is rude to everybody else because everybody's nerves are on edge. I am not surprised. Take your taxi and automobile. Everyone seems to have a different shriek, groan, whistle or hoot, and when you get on top of these fiendish, ear-splitting screams of the fire engines you have indeed a city of dreadful din."

The Old-Fashioned Grandmother

London Newspaper Finds There Is No Such Person Now

A one-day search by a London newspaper for the old-fashioned grandmother who is usually pictured as sitting quietly darning socks by the fireside, has failed completely. The inquirer compiled a list of seven grandmothers, and then set out to find out what they were doing.

No. 1 was in Paris buying frocks. No. 2 had recently acquired a two-seater automobile and had driven up into the Midlands to see her son's sons.

No. 3 had gone into the country to make a political speech in her son's constituency.

No. 4 had gone to a matinee.

No. 5 was out buying some new valves for the radio set.

No. 6 was out getting her hair shingled.

No. 7 had gone to a tea daisant at a big hotel.

Cleopatra Ate Onions

Ancients Were Very Fond of Salads Such as Moderns Enjoy

British food experts who have been making a special study of the history of salads say the tomato is the single new ingredient modern times have contributed to salad making. The Pharaohs even the beautiful Cleopatra ate onions in large quantities in their salads, and used garlic and other like-scented ingredients. Conclude are cucumbers and the ancient Chinese used mustard, watercress and nasturtium leaves and flowers in mixing their elaborate salads, which often contained hard-boiled eggs. Ancient Persians also were fond of salads, and used lettuce and radishes, much as they used in modern salad making. Sour wine, not unlike modern vinegar, was used on lettuce by the Persians four thousand years ago.

Little "Rest" in Sleep

The average amount of "absolute rest" that is gotten during a night's sleep is only 1 1/2 minutes, according to Prof. H. M. Johnson of the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh. The remainder of the time, he says, there is usually muscular or mental action, such as take place during a dream. Seven and three-quarter hours of sleep is plenty for any normal man or woman, the scientist declares. New York World.

British Columbia Sheep For Russia

Forty-six purebred Hampshire sheep purchased in British Columbia for the Russian Soviet Government left Victoria recently for Vladivostok. This is the second shipment to go forward from the Dominion to that market, the first having been made last year.

Canada Has Bettered Century-Old Feat

Overcoat Made From Sheep's Back to Finished Garment Delivered in 15 Hours

A light fall overcoat, manufactured from wool sheared from the sheep at 5:00 a.m., and completed into the finished garment by 8:00 p.m., was presented to His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Perceval of Quebec on the evening of the opening day of the Canadian National Exhibition by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Perceval opened the woolen display at the fair.

Some doubted that the Canadian woolen manufacturers would ever "be as smart as those in England," and a story was told of a wager made by Sir John Throckmorton in 1811, in which he offered to appear at dinner in the evening in a suit of wool which had been on the back of a sheep in the morning. The wager was for a thousand guineas, and, according to the report, Sir John won easily.

Not content, however, merely to duplicate the feat of the English woolen men of over a century ago, the Canadian manufacturers decided to go them one better. The woolen overcoat for His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Perceval was made at Brantford, and not only was the garment completed, but it was transported to Toronto within the time specified. To this end, the management of the exhibition made arrangements to secure an aeroplane, which was waiting at Brantford for the completion of the garment and which rushed it to Toronto by direct air route. A similar journey in 1811, the Canadian woolen men point out, would alone have occupied twenty-four hours.

Long Life Records

Some Animals Attain 100 Years But Trees Reach Thousands

Members of the vegetable kingdom easily beat those of the animal kingdom where length of life is concerned.

The life of the great forest trees may vary from 100 to 4,000 or 5,000 years. The cypress, it is said, may live for 350 years, the ivy 450, the chestnut 600, the cedar 800, the oak 1,000 to 1,500, the yew 2,500, and the baobab tree 5,000 years.

A hundred years are attained by some of the longest-lived animals, such as the elephant, the crocodile, and the tortoise. Pike and carp have been known to live from 60 to 150 years; eagles, crows and parrots from 50 to 100 years.

A Shropshire, England, farm laborer, Thomas Parr, is credited with one of the longest lives on record. He is said to have been 152 years old at the time of his death. At 120 years he married a second time, and for many years continued to work on the farm.

Little Helps For This Week

Be still, and know that I am God.—Ps. xvi, 10.

Fret not, poor soul, while doubt and fear.

Disturb thy breast;

The plying angels, who can see

How vain thy wild regret must be,

Say, trust and rest.

Strive not, nor struggle; thy poor might

Can never wrest

The mearest thing to serve thy will,

All power is His alone; be still,

And trust, and rest.

—Adeline Anne Proctor.

Do you know what Luther said?

"Suffer and be still, and tell no man

thy sorrow; trust in God. His help will not fail thee." This is what

Scripture calls keeping silence before

God. To talk much of one's sorrows

makes one weak; but to tell one's sorrows

to Him who heareth in secret

makes one strong and calm. —Tholuck

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

Laws For Pedestrians

Punishment For Vienna Citizens Who Violate New Rules

Under modifications in the municipal laws of Vienna, persons who talk, whistle or sing too loudly in the streets may be fined 20 cents. For repeated offences jail terms are provided.

If a person is detected reading a newspaper or book while walking along the street, thereby "impeding pedestrian traffic," he may be subjected to a similar fine.

Stopping a friend in the middle of a roadway, a carrying of packages of undue sizes and using bad or unseemly language, are among other punishable offences.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly at it generally does the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW ARRIVALS

Truro News:—(Glenholm, N.S.) Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulton, who have been in this place for some months are leaving for the "West" in a few days. We are sorry to lose these good people, but hope to hear of Mrs. Fulton having better health. Mr. Fulton has been a great help, both in the lodge, of which he was a member and the Sabbath School and Christian Endeavour, we wish him success wherever he may go.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton hope to settle in Lacombe. Mrs. Fulton, nee Mary Layton, is a graduate nurse, and after a visit to her brother in Lockhart, will be ready for work.

NEW PUPILS ARE GIVEN
WELCOME AT LACOMBE
HIGH SCHOOL

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Lacombe High School on Friday evening of last week, when a social evening was arranged by the high school pupils for the new students attending high school this term. Many former high school students were present, as well as the present high school staff. The evening's programme started off with games of various and novel kinds, in which nearly everyone took an active part, and much enjoyment was evinced by all. After the games, dancing was engaged in, till about eleven o'clock, when an abundant supper was served. After supper, dancing was again the order of the evening and was kept up until about 12:30 when the social evening ended. Everyone so thoroughly enjoyed the evening that they were very reluctant to leave.

Those who supplied the music for the dancing are: Miss Eleanor Walters, Miss Kathleen Campbell, Miss Rose Murray, Mr. Lawrence Campbell and Mr. Jack Halpin.

EXPLORE BARREN LANDS

High River—Travelling a few hours by aeroplane in place of spending months hiking through muskeg and portaging from lake to lake, the government geological survey party which went up into the barren lands between Great Slave Lake and the Bathurst Inlet to hunt for valuable minerals has completed its voyage and is now on the way down from Fort Fitzgerald which is 700 miles north of Edmonton.

The party was preceded to civilization by the big hydroplane, flown by Irene Vachon and piloted by C. S. Caldwell, who arrived in High River on Saturday. The plane passed over Calgary on Saturday afternoon, and was seen by many.

Use of a hydroplane in exploring the inaccessible regions of the north-west is a new development in Canada. The amphibian used by the geologists is the first ever brought to the west and is eminently suited for use in the lake strewn areas of the north country. The plane weighs three tons when loaded and is capable of carrying 4,000 lbs. of freight through the air at a speed considerably greater than that of an express train.

On the mineral survey just completed it carried three government geologists headed by D. W. Dunn, of Ottawa, into regions which could have been penetrated only after months of hard work, if the ordinary methods of travel had been relied on. It carried all their technical equipment besides supplies for several months' work, and Pilot Caldwell, together with Engineer Vachon.

Numerous flights were made by the aeroplane, not only in bringing additional supplies to the base camp of the party, but also inside trips, and the actual distance flown by the machine is between 6,000 and 7,000 miles.

The geologists made a thorough survey of a much larger stretch of country than would have been accessible to them had they not had the flying machine at their service.

The party was taken down to Fitzgerald on Saturday morning, and is now on its way to Edmonton from that point. The hydroplane was flown straight on to High River by Pilot Caldwell, and a good illustration of the time saved by flying is that the geologists will have to take six days in travelling from Fort Fitzgerald to Edmonton, while the plane made the trip from the same place in only six hours.

It is expected that the geologists will make their report to the government regarding the mineral possibilities of the far north as soon as they have returned.

Pilot Caldwell, who landed on many of the lakes in the barren lands, describes them as teeming with fish. "There are enough fish up there to feed the whole world for 15 years." This was his summing up of the lake as up there.

There was little wild game encountered or seen from the plane, when it was in flight, except caribou.

The flight was made under peculiar difficulties in that there were no maps available of the area penetrated. The result is that Pilot Caldwell had to use his instruments to obtain his bearings on all the important land marks and made his own charts.

The plane on its return trip landed first on Gull Lake, where many people saw it alight as gracefully as a bird on the big sheet of water. It then flew to High River, covering the distance between the two points in an hour and a half.

CENTRAL GARAGE CHANGES
HANDS

This week the Central Garage of Lacombe, for the past year operated by Mr. Ferguson, was disposed of by that gentleman to Mr. Hal D. Laird, late of Stony Plain, an experienced garage and automobile man. Mr. Laird took possession this week, and is busy getting things in first class shape to give real service to car owners. The garage will be open night and day, and he will have a staff of mechanical experts to take care of your troubles. He has taken the Ford Agency for this territory, and also for the Rimby district. He has received his first shipment of cars, and also a full line of Ford parts. He has also the agency for Woods Bros. Separators and other thrashing machinery. Over tractor plows and other implements will also be handled, and Mr. Laird will be pleased to see the residents of the district and show them his various lines.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

There was a well attended meeting of the Board of Trade on Thursday evening last, Edwin H. Jones, Esq., K. C., presiding. After an interesting resume of the work accomplished by the Board since the last meeting and a report from Secretary Jesse Fraser that some thirty new members had been added in the past month or so, Rev. C. C. McLaurin was called upon to put his views re the change of name of Gull Lake before the meeting. Mr. McLaurin said that owing to the fact that there was a post office in Saskatchewan named Gull Lake, there was considerable confusion in the distribution of mail, as residents at Gull Lake appeared to be unaware that the post office was not Gull Lake, but "Aspen Beach", and letters addressed to Gull Lake went to Saskatchewan. The meeting was not very favorable to changing the name, possibly for sentiment, and the matter was laid over till December meeting. It was also suggested by Mr. McLaurin that steps be taken to secure a permanent pier at the lake at Aspen Beach. If this was done, pier would be built at McLaurin's Beach and passengers could be met by boats and taken over. This matter was also laid over for future consideration.

At the two piano "Organ Fund Concert" in the United Church on Friday will give short explanations of the different numbers, and forms of composition before they are rendered. These remarks will greatly increase the interest and appreciation of the audience. S9-2c.

Standardized Quality
Assures Chrysler Superiority of Performance and Value in the Lighter Six
CHRYSLER '60'

CHRYSLER Standardized Quality is a fixed and inflexible quality standard which enforces the same scrupulously close limits—the same rigid rule of engineering exactness—the same absolute accuracy and precision of alignment and assemblage—in the measurement, the machining and the manufacturing of every part, practice and process in four lines of Chrysler Cars—"50", "60", "70" and Imperial "80".

It is because of this standardization of quality that the Chrysler "60" gives its sixty miles, and more, per hour; unprecedented get-away; gas economy of 26 miles and more per gallon; the smartness of Chrysler beauty; astonishing riding ease and roadability; the safety of Chrysler four-wheel hydraulic brakes; oil-filter and air-cleaner; full pressure lubrication; seven-bearing crankshaft; impulse neutralizer; road levelers front and rear; roomy, luxurious bodies.

Never before has the motoring public been offered such supreme quality and value—in the field of the lower-priced six. For no other manufacturer has been able to achieve Quality Standardization with its inescapable advantages which enable even the inexperienced motorist to buy the highest-priced or lowest-priced Chrysler with the assurance that the value in each is unquestionable.

See the lighter six, Chrysler "60". Drive it. Convince yourself that nowhere will you find a six in the lower-priced field that can begin to compare with this great Chrysler achievement.

CHRYSLER "60"—Touring Car, $1485; Roadster, $1550; Club Coupe, $1605; Coach, $1700; Sedan, $1835.

F.O.B. Windsor, Ontario. (Freight only to be added.) The above prices include all taxes, license, front and rear spare tire, tire cover and tank full of gas.
